THE CAMBRIDGE
RINDGE AND LATIN SCHOOL

Cambridge Rindge and Latin — this must be the place. A place to learn, a place to socialize, a place to go when you have nothing better to do! (just kidding, Mr. Sarasin)

CRLS is a common place — drawing students from all over Cambridge, the country and the world (and maybe a few from outer space). Despite our differences, we have been able to combine to form one strong body.

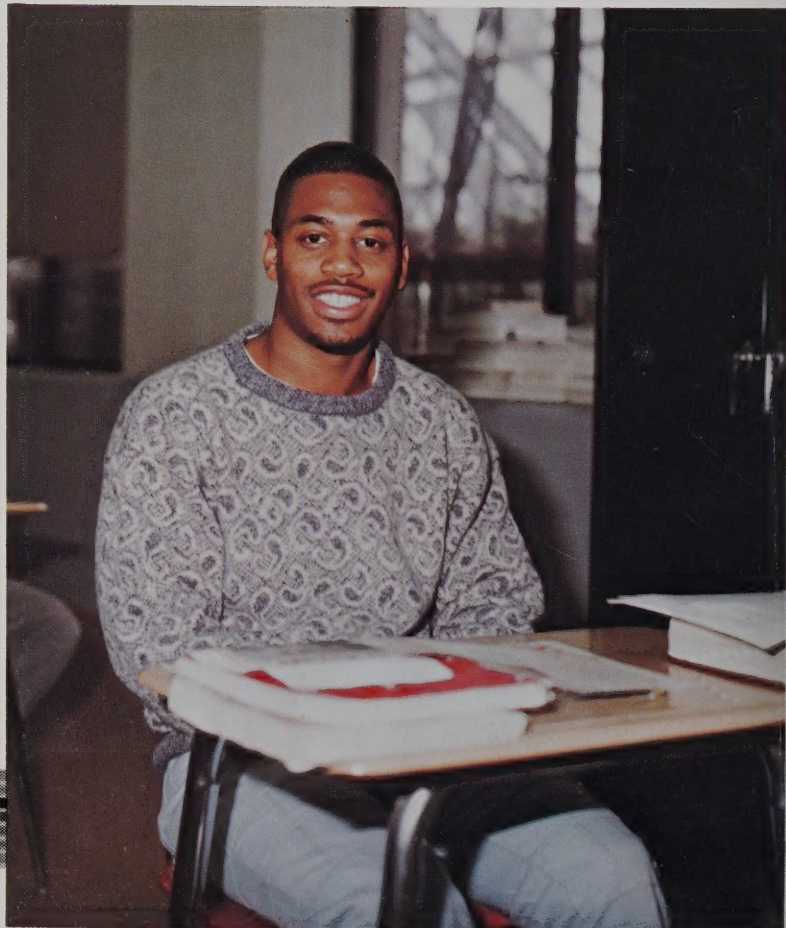

CRLS is also a place for individuals. We have drawn upon our diversity to become separate and distinguishable figures within the crowd. We have proven that we are not “just another brick in the wall.”

Most importantly, CRLS is a place to learn. We are exposed to subjects ranging from Biology to German to Radio Broadcasting. We are also educated by each other. We learn to communicate, to maintain friendships, and to hang outside of the school everyday at 2:30.

The Class of 1987 is the tenth graduating class of CRLS. Along with the school, we have come a long way. We are now ready to face the world prepared with the tools that CRLS has given us — education, experience and the ability to dodge security guards. We wish luck to the Class of 1987 and all those to follow us.

"Wait, we're seniors, take a picture of us."

Sexy and 17

"Hi, I'm Michael the MOUSEKETEER."

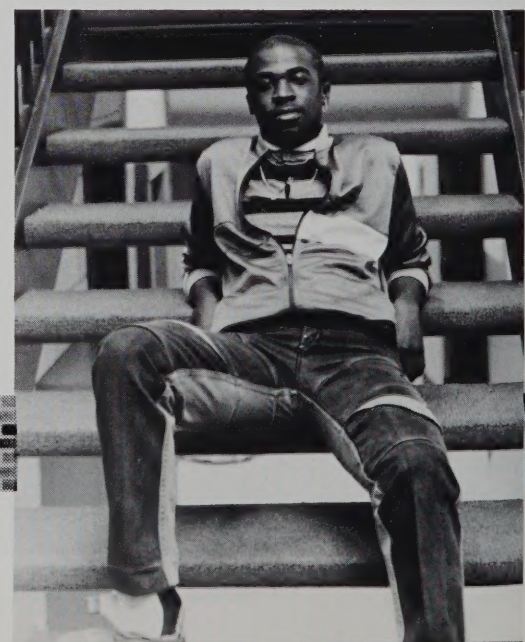

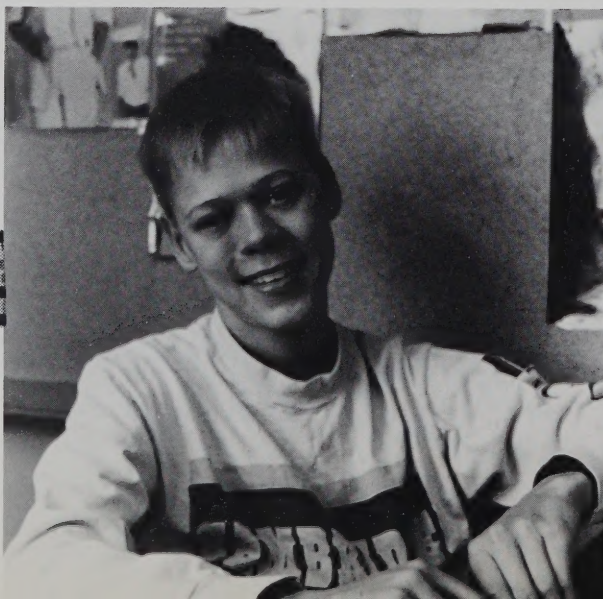

"Mom, come take me home."

"Physics is fun and easy."

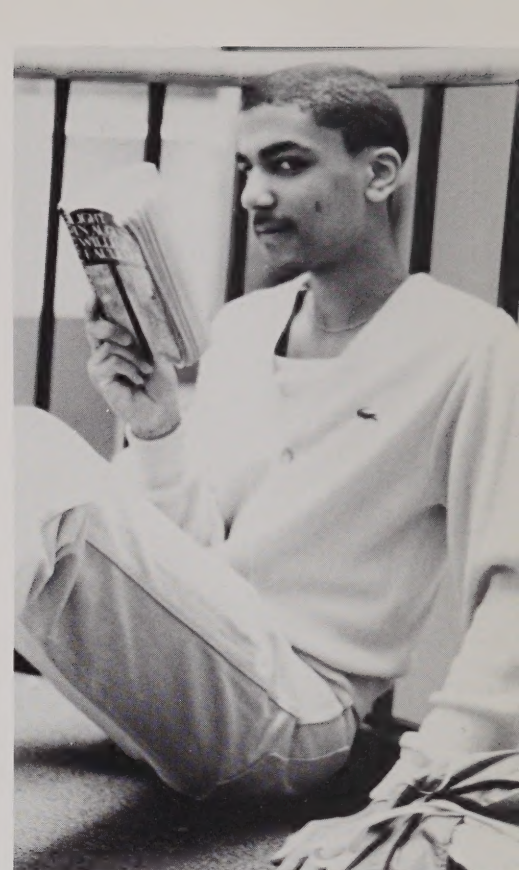

"Mirror, mirror on the wall, who is the slickest of them all?"

"He did it."

Paul threatens us with his menacing smirk.

Cinderella prepares for the grand ball.

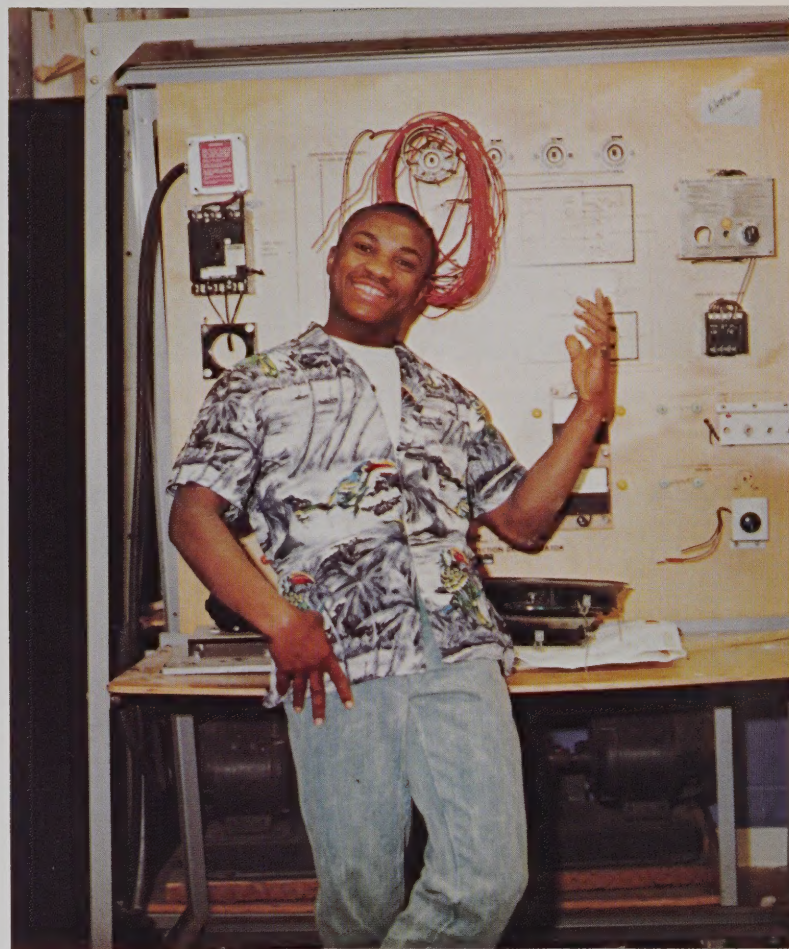

"Five thousand words on the Russian Revolution? You've got to be kidding."

"Ooh, Emily, don't touch me there."

"Are you guys really photographers from Vogue?"

The next Renoir.

Warrior fever

"Babyface . . . you've got that cutest little babyface . . ."

"Hi there!"

"Did you really have to do that?"

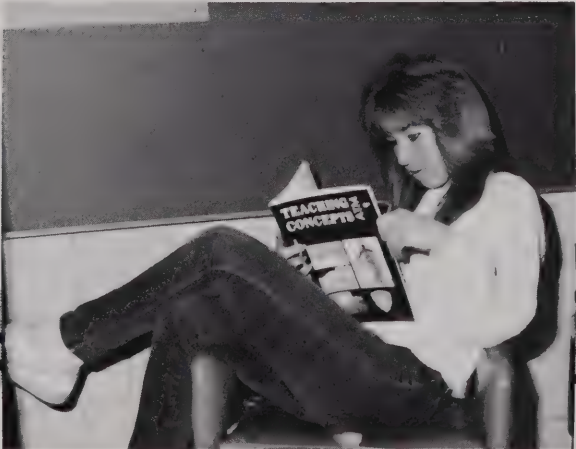

"That's right, we're all skipping class and hanging in Filo's office."

"You put what in my sandwich?"

Ms. President and friends munch down on a nutritious lunch of Poppo Rings.

Kinga hatches an egg.

It's been (heh-heh) a long haul, but we've finally done it. What memories — hours of layout, infinite amounts of copy and typing and eons of caption-writing. There have been many casualties (sore fingers, pure exhaustion), and a bit of friction (we almost killed each other), but I think we will find it worth the time.

I want to personally thank all the staff — especially Renee, Linda, Pauline, Veronica and Sandra. And of course I owe the fact that I didn't go crazy to Jon and Lisa.

I think we did it!

Although equipped with a splendid staff this yearbook could not have been created without the help of many individuals. We would like to thank the following: Advisor Joe Sullivan; Al Ferreira for his photography wisdom; Kit Porter and the entire Baring-Gould family (Wendy, Jay, Laura and Ian), for their house, food and support; Filo, Kraz and Mr. Kimbrough, for their many contributions; and Arnie Lohmann for answering all our questions on "Ask Arnie"

Thank You,

CLASS OF 1987

OUR JUNIOR

Though we spoke in a different tongue, the class of 1987 spent one glorious weekend in Montreal, Canada. On this three day and two night trip, eighty dudes and dudettes went to a baseball game, ate fine Canadian cuisine, shopped in tres chic shops that lined the streets of this busy city.

When we found time to, classmates slept at the Holiday Inn in Montreal. We drank, we ate, we were merry . . . and we had fun, even though Filo, Skip, Mr. Haverty, Mr. Pescatore, and Mrs. Burns were chaperones. (he he he he)

GREAT ADVENTURES, NJ

The Little Rascals

"Don't look as us. She isn't my kid."

The trip to Great Adventures began with a set of long sleepy faces at six o'clock in the morning in the library parking lot. The six hour drive to New Jersey was filled with laughter, dancing, and singing. We arrived at the amusement park at noon. Everybody went crazy at the sight of all the incredible rides and games.

The park was beautiful, crowded, and exciting. The day was filled with screaming people having a great time on the rides.

Around ten-thirty, many of us took a ride on the ferris wheel to see a breath-taking view of the illuminated park. A little past eleven, we took a final ride on the Bobsled, and had our last "great adventure".

"It's not Angelo's, but it's the best we could find."

PAAARTY

Bring on the grub.

The gala event of our junior year happened on May 16, 1986. the night was filled with beautiful dresses and sophisticated suits. Everything was great: The music, the service, and setting. Everything was fantastic except the food which was even worse than Alpo. After dinner, the dance floor was packed with rhythmic steps to songs like the "Conga", Prince's "Kiss" and "I Can't Wait". When relaxing time came we danced to songs like "Tender Love" and "Moments in Love." The Class of 1987 danced the night away. The last song was "Always and Forever." Everyone will always and forever remember this night.

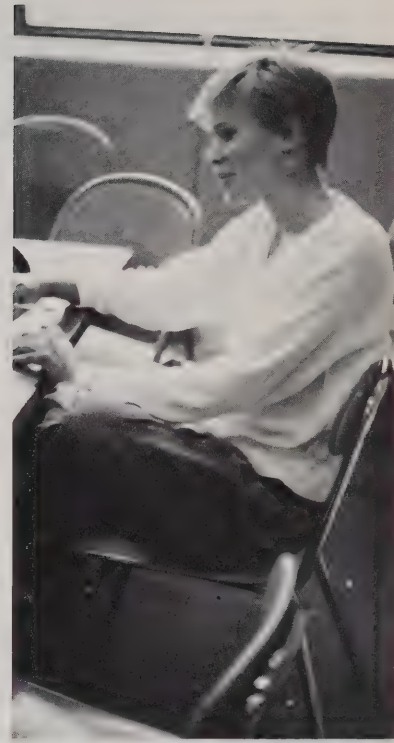

SEMI-FORMAL

senioritis (se-nyer-i-tus)n.
— A state of mind in which the affected suffers from chronic laziness, intermittent partying and severe relaxation, (often accompanied by persistent guilt). It is found only in high school students who are over-worked, over-anxious and over the edge. Senioritis is caused by three years of high school.

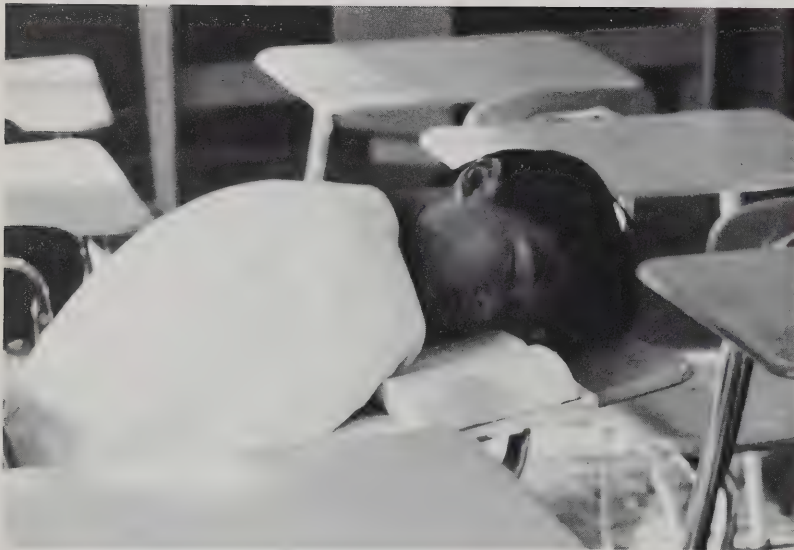

The Causes

Fall. Senior Year: There are classes to be passed, exams to be taken and choices to be pondered. For some the decisions focus around colleges, while others consider possible careers. The excitement of being Seniors (!) somehow gets swallowed up in the overwhelming amount of work during this season. The Class Trip, Prom and (gasp!) Graduation are mere specks of light at the end of the tunnel.

It is during this time that the unsuspecting seniors increase their susceptibility to the all-consuming Senioritis . . .

Inku Kahn soaking up knowledge . . .

Justin Dore studying in Pilot.

Jennifer Brissett finishing homework in the SSC.

Peter "K" reading his college folder.

Mid-senior year arrives and a strange thing starts happening to the victims of Senioritis: they begin to laugh, smile, and dare we say it — have a good time.

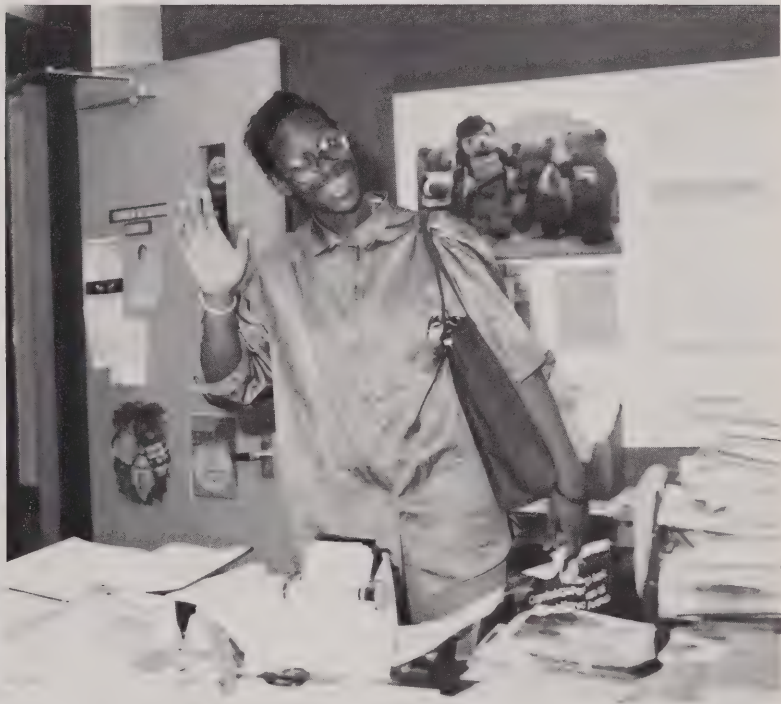

Life looks pretty good now, except for the decision pressures like: Which classes will I go to today? or Which Sun Protection Factor is good for me in the Bahamas?

For those suffering from this disease, the best advice is to wait and let Senioritis run its course. It is advisable to get plenty of rest (on weekdays) and take at least two parties a week. Try not to alienate parents, teachers and underclassmen — remember, they still live in the real world into which you will some day re-enter . . .

THE SYMPTOMS

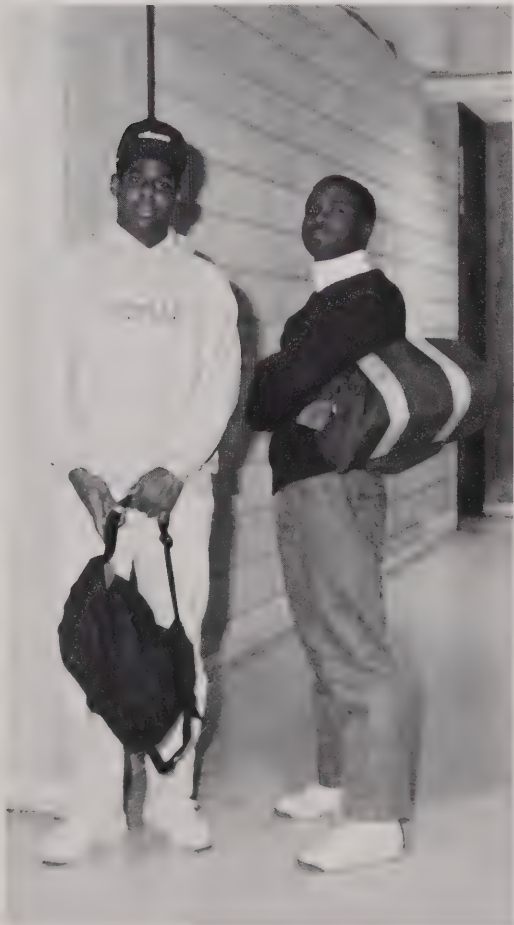

Jem, Jem — she's truly outrageous!

"Well — I guess I'll be graduating now!"

"I bet you've never seen this trick before!"

"Security? No Problem!"

Sarah, the amazing Two-Headed senior.

"Knock, knock — open the door."

The Cure!

Oooh! Bahamas

Hey Mon — this is the place to cure your senioritis. Come to the home of sunshine and sweet rum. After months of anticipation, the departure date finally came. Seniors sat in the sun by day and partied all night. We were greeted every morning by hangovers and bad eggs. Some were adventurous enough to try scuba diving or gambling while others worked on their tans. Thanks to the hard work of Filo, Skip, Kimbrough, Kraz, Mr. Haverty, Mr. Culhane and Mr. Spencer, everyone arrived home safely. Everyone was very thankful to have an extra day to sleep and recover before returning to another long day of school.

Pass-out Peter

Would you trust your children with these men?

"Hey Jimmy, who's your new friend?"

"We don't have to fight for the right to party."

Tedros and Von get down.

Senior Class Officer candidates

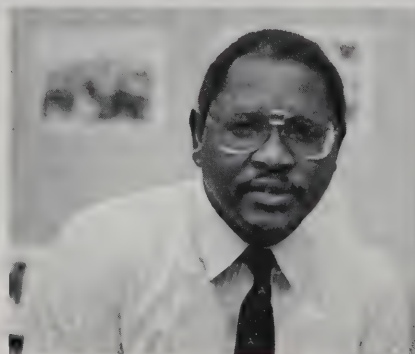

Early Fall, 1986, brought election fever, along with a multitude of campaign posters to CRLS. Seniors rushed first to the auditorium for the candidates' speeches, and then to the ballots to cast their votes for their favorites. The result was the election of President Gladys Toledo, Vice-President Kevin Mitrano, Paulina Alves as Secretary and Treasurer Jon Baring-Gould.

With the aid of Senior Advisors, as well as the Executive Board, the Senior Class Officers worked to coordinate class activities such as dances, the senior class trip and the Prom.

Congregating in the Student Service Center and lining the halls as doughnut salespeople, the officers helped to create a great senior year. The Class of 1987 extends their thanks to these dedicated few. In addition, we would like to thank the Class Advisors, Filmona Moreira, Skip McCarthy and Les Kimbrough, for their dedication and help.

UNDERCLASSMEN

Although we often wouldn't like to believe it, CRLS is made up of students other than seniors. Juniors, sophomores and freshmen (freshmen?) through their individual and whole class contributions, add to the dynamics of our school.

Ah, underclassmen life! As a freshman you struggle to find your way around the school and its various social groups. This is your first taste of the Real World.

"Thank God that's over!", You sigh as you enter your sophomore year. Suddenly the school isn't as large as you thought it was. Weren't those upperclassmen much taller than you? You start developing social skills and characteristic hang-outs. That long-lost confidence begins to grow within you . . .

Upperclassmen! You can't believe you're already half-way through your high school career. With the lowerclassmen to look down upon, you start to feel the power of your position. This social hierarchy isn't such a bad idea when you're almost on top!

This section is dedicated to presenting the other CRLS inhabitants (for the first time ever!) in their natural habitats.

CRLS Celebrates A Birthday

This year's graduating class is special, being the tenth one from Cambridge Rindge and Latin School. Born in 1977, CRLS has endured some major difficulties in its short life. Prior to 1977 the city had two public high schools, Rindge Technical School and Cambridge High and Latin School. Each school had its own principal, administration, and sports teams. The rivalry between the schools was once seen as a healthy thing, but by the mid seventies a typical Rindge-Latin basketball game would pit five blacks against five whites. Thoughtful people in the Cambridge community began to see that there was a need to unify the two schools for the purpose of creating opportunities for cooperation rather than competition.

The transition was not easy. Where there had been two faculties, there would now be but one. Many administrators were displaced. Law suits followed. The new "house" system was introduced. The old CHLS building was raised, the Arts Building and the Frisoli Field House were built.

In January, 1980, a student was killed in a fight with a fellow student. Racial tension flared. The incident drew national attention. Many thought that the killing would mean the end of effective public secondary education in Cambridge.

However, all elements of the Cambridge community rallied to keep their school together. It is quite clear that visitors who come to CRLS in 1987 find a safe school where members of different races and creeds interact. We feel proud of what has been accomplished here, while we realize that there is still much to be done.

To the graduates of our tenth class, congratulations. Keep the CRLS spirit with you.

Officers Elected

This fall, the seniors cast their votes to choose the class officers. Gladys Toledo was elected President, Kevin Mitrano Vice-President, Paulina Alves Secretary and Jonathan Baring-Gould became the class Treasurer. Together they worked to make the class of 1987 the best ever!

Lukas Leaves

One of the sadder parts of this year has been the departure of Mr. Lukas. He left his position as assistant headmaster of CRLS to become a school principal in Marblehead. After 17 years at CRLS, Henry Lukas greatly enriched this school and this class.

"The Visit"

The CRLS Drama Departments presentation of "The Visit" was a huge success. It was guest directed by Al Cremin, who together with the cast and crew, helped make it one of the best CRLS drama productions.

CRLS Host to Soap Stars Visit

When Brian Bloom, John Hensley, and Jennifer Ashe of As The World Turns visited CRLS this fall, hundreds of soap opera fans went crazy. The female majority greeted the stars with piercing screams and thunderous applause. Security was heavy, but didn't dare interfere when one student gave an enviable strangling hug to the male actors.

Female Football Player

When Fanshen Cox decided to join the CRLS Warriors football team, she had little idea what reactions she would trigger. Although she is not the first young woman to play in a high school football team, her membership attracted the attention of various media. Fanshen played wide-receiver and proved herself both on the field and standing up to social prejudices.

The Drama Department shares the basement of the Arts Building with the CRLS Dance program. It is run by Barbara Ehrlich and has been very active in recent years. The dancers put on an annual concert which displays their talents and diversity. Daily classes are offered throughout the year which provides both the beginning and advanced students with opportunities to expand their dancing abilities.

MUSIC

The Music Department at C.R.L.S. has been a very important part of the school. Every year they enrich our lives with concerts with various types of music ranging from jazz to classical.

In May of 1986, the Jazz Ensemble performed for the Governor's Ball in Lowell. Traditionally, the Band has played in the annual football games, including in the Thanksgiving game. (where the whole band usually freezes!) In the concerts and football games, the band, orchestra, and Jazz Ensemble has made us tap our feet and dance to songs like "Axel F", "Obsession", "Tiguila", "Proud Mary", "Exodus", and "Woodchoppers Ball".

The chorus is also a big part of the Music Department. They have been to nursing homes, hospitals, and parades. The chorus has sung a selection of songs like "New York, New York", "We Are The World", and "Summer Time".

The Music Department has brought extraordinary talent to C.R.L.S. We want to thank Bob Ponte, Jimmy Smith, Mary Dwyer, Jean Tepaski, and Anthony Apicella for helping us develop these great talents.

"I knew that didn't sound right, the page was upside down."

Wow, look at those sexy cheek bones.

Today "Mary Had A Little Lamb", tomorrow "Beethoven's Fifth."

"Do I really have to be here?"

"I never knew you could do that with drumsticks."

DRAMA

Bravo Cappuccio!

The CRLS Drama production of "Bravo Cappuccio" placed fourth in the Massachusetts High School Drama Festival. The cast, in conjunction with Director Gerry Specia, wrote the script, basing it on a few Italian folk tales. The show was very exciting and involved such things as a magic pasta pot, rotating set pieces powered by crew people, and a variety of plot twists.

Giannina (Melissa Marotto) looks apprehensive as the sorceress (Betsy Flack) attempts to cure her loss of speech.

Matthew Damon playing Humpty Dumpty (A.K.A. Toast)

Geppone (Derrick Bridgeman) is entranced by a magic box given to him by the North Wind.

The North Wind (Amo Gulinello) and his wife (Jenny Raskin) present Geppone with a magic box.

Strega Nonna (Margarite Mancini) places a spell on her magic pasta pot as Big Anthony (Amo Gulinello) looks on in wonder.

The Visit

This year, the fall show at CRLS was directed by Al Cremin, a guest director from Watertown High School. He directed the award winning show at the Massachusetts High School Drama Festival last year. Mr. Cremin brought his version of The Visit to the CRLS theater. The show was about Clara Wascher, a millionaire who returns to seek revenge on her hometown. She asks the townspeople to kill the one man she used to love. Her antics in the town stir up a bit of hidden scandal. The show was a big hit and it was a great experience for students from CRLS to be able to work with an outside director.

The girls' dressing room is filled with anticipation as curtain time approaches.

BRIGADOON

Music by Frederick Lowe. Book and lyrics by Alan Jay Lerner.

Tommy Albright (Jesse Flack) and Jeff Douglas (Brendan Case) contemplate their whereabouts before they stumble upon Brigadoon.

The Drama Department's annual summer musical, Brigadoon, filled the theatre with colorful costumes, talented actors, and beautiful sets. After six weeks of blocking, designing, sewing, and painting, the show was ready for a final polish and took on an incredible realism as soon as lighting, fog, and sound effects were added. On opening night, the actors glided through the audience and on the stage to begin the play with MacConnachy Square — there the story begins to unfold involving the audience in a magical tale of an enchanted hillside village.

The whole cast toasts the upcoming marriage festivities of Charlie Dalrymple (Greg Edwards) and Jean McClaren (Jessica Rizzi).

Meg Brockie (Katy LaBrie) tries in vain to convince Jeff that he should be attracted to her because, as she states it, "Ye're a lad an' I'm a lass."

Tommy embraces his new love Fiona McClaren (Carin Anderson) before confessing that it's "Almost Like Being In Love."

Fiona and Mr. Lundie (Stephen Gilman) explain the mysterious story of Brigadoon to Tommy and Jeff.

Charlie and Jean complete their wedding ceremony with a kiss.

Tommy and Fiona say a tearful goodbye as Brigadoon vanishes into the engulfing Scottish mist.

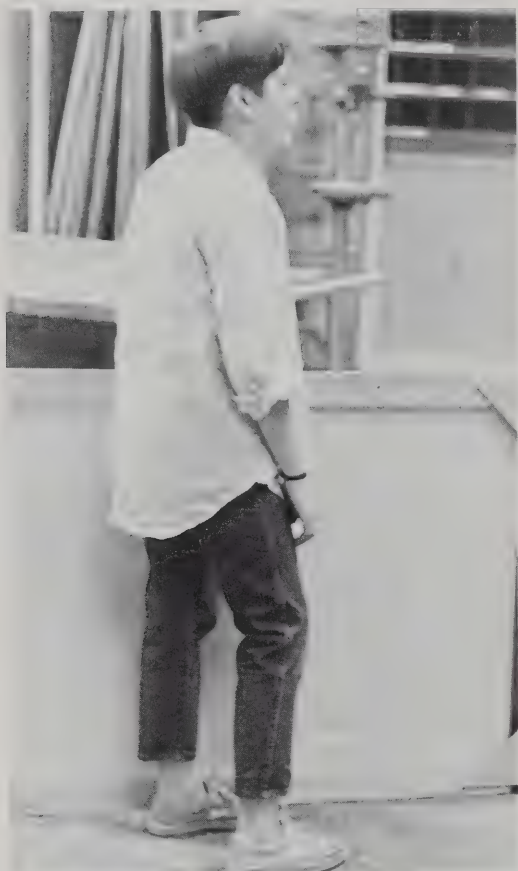

Tommy returns to New York, and is haunted by Fiona's voice even while Jane (Johanna Chapin) and Frank (Martin Mehrling) attempt to talk to him. (Jesse — what a bar!)

"There mus' be lots of folk out there who'd like a Brigadoon."

The girl's basketball team finished their season with 9 wins and 10 losses. Although they didn't qualify for the tournament, there were many bright spots. Captain Erin Peterson was named a first team All Star and MVP of the League. She was also the fifth leading scorer in the league. Senior Lucy Scalese was named to the second team. Junior Tammy Jones, the third leading scorer in the league, was chosen Honorable Mention. The team was made up of seniors Lucy Scalese and Tricia McQuade; Juniors Tammy Jones, Nicole Pacheco and Rachel Colannino and Sophomores Jessica Ferraro, Linda Frisoli, Kari Hilsman and Lisa Barnes.

The Warrior Huddle

The 1987 Boys' Swim team continued its winning ways with a 5-4 dual meet record, led by co-captains Olof Ehrenstrom and Seth Cooper, the squad posted victories over Quincy, North Quincy, Arlington, Waltham, and Don Bosco. This year's team displayed more depth than any since the early 1970's and is closing in on the powerhouse teams of the Suburban League: Brookline, Brockton, and Newton North. Even with the loss of seniors Olof Ehrenstrom, Brett Lieberman, Peter Schmidt, Salazar Silva, Joachim Martin, and Ling Yanh, we expect to see a continued strengthening of the team during the next few years.

The CRLS Hockey team finished in fifth place in the Suburban League for the 1986-87 season. Their final record was 7 wins, 11 losses and 2 ties. An especially savory victory came in the game with Arlington, with a score of 4-2. The players also shone in a game against Quincy, in which Michael Kelsey, Michael Pearson and Brian Murphy scored three goals in 46 seconds in the 3rd period.

Captain Michael Kelsey led the team with 44 points, Michael Pearson followed with 35. Goalie James Ignazio displayed his skill with an overall Goals Against average of 3.8. Our Men in Brown and Gold — The Mighty Warriors

The 1986 CRLS Football team started its season with a promising outlook. For the first time in 10 years, they were able to play on a home field, Russell Field in North Cambridge. They were off to a great start with a victory in their first game at the new field.

Unfortunately, the final record was a disappointing 2-8. However, 6 of the losses were marginal, which eased the pain of players and fans. The captains were seniors Gary Henry, Lance Dottin, and Jon Tynes. Impressive performances were turned in by Lance and senior Waldy Clark as they led the team in 1,000 + yard seasons.

With a four and two record, the girls' cross country team won the Suburban League this year. They placed fifth in the Eastern State Division One to qualify for the All States.

In the All State meet, Kristin Smaby placed 14th overall. With such runners as seniors Erin Murphy (captain) and Kristen Stockard, the team showed that C.R.L.S. is one of the finest teams competing today.

Country

The Cambridge Rindge and Latin Boys Cross Country team were the All-State champions this year, scoring better than any other team has in an All-State meet. Scott Cody won the meet as an individual and overall the team scored forty-two points. Jamal Prince came in 6th. Lance Campbell followed in 19th place. Ken Forde took a fine 22nd place and Co-Captain Suraffel Assefa placed 25th.

The Suburban League Champs boasted a 6 and 0 record, as well as other impressive victories. They won the Bishop Loughlin Invitational held in Manhattan. Teams from all over the Eastern Coast competed in this meet and our team came up on top. Well of course . . . They're the C.R.L.S. Boys Cross Country team!

Seniors that will be surely missed are Captains Ray Ausrotas and Suraffel Assefa, as well as Lance Campbell, Kenny Forde, and Francisco Hernandez.

1987 started out with a flourish for the Boys' Track Team. In January the team won its sixth consecutive indoor Suburban League Championship with a 6-0 record.

February was also kind to track. The team captured its second straight Class A and All State Championships. To judge the talent of this team, the score in the All State Championships was Cambridge 6-0 and its nearest competitor 16.

The stirring mile relay victory over Belmont in the All State Championships by Lance Campbell, Waldy Clark, Jamal Prince, and Ken Forde was the highlight of the season.

Sorely missed was Karim Saunders who missed the season with an injury.

Outstanding records on the team were held by seniors Amy Henry (11 and 1) and Megan Todd (7 and 4). Junior Heather Lewis also had an impressive 7 and 4 record. The team finished the season at 12 and 6; this record qualified them for the state tournament. The team worked very hard, and according to Susan Mescall, "It was one of the most exciting season in years" Tiffany Mann and Lisa SooHoo were chosen as Suburban League All-Stars.

The high point of the season was a victory over Quincy, who had gone undefeated for the past three years. The Cambridge squad also took Milford to the fifth match in the State Tournament before losing by six points.

Next year the Cambridge Squad promises to be just as good with the return of Susan DiClemente, who is predicted to lead Cambridge to victory, along with a host of other talented underclassmen.

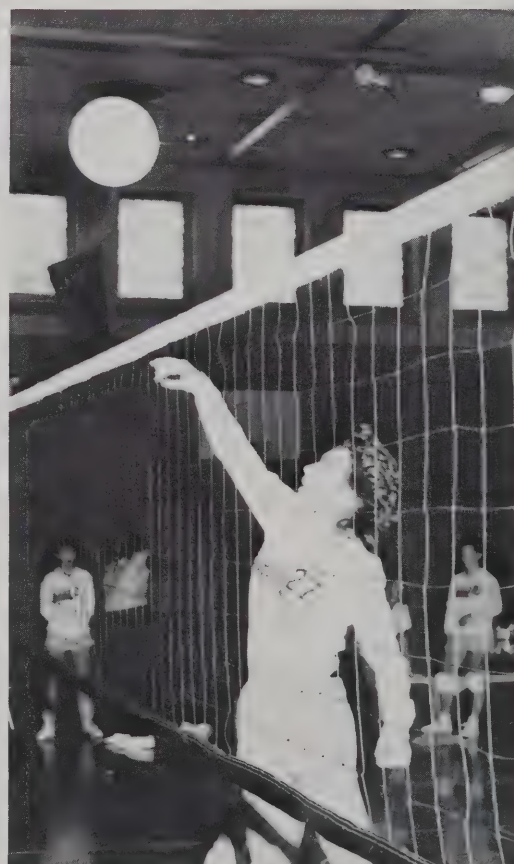

A special word of thanks to Coach Linda Town for helping Cambridge with a very successful season.

Fifty pints of blood were drained from Cambridge Rindge and Latin students and faculty during the sixth annual CRLS Red Cross Blood Drive. Being only fifteen pints shy of the set goal, blood drive coordinator Ed McGillicuddy as well as the Red Cross nurses were very pleased with the school turnout.

Students aided donors during the drive by checking peoples names and giving support to those few who were having second thoughts about giving blood.

Martin Luther King, Jr. Day

Alicia Sealey sings to Rev. Martin Luther King, Jr.

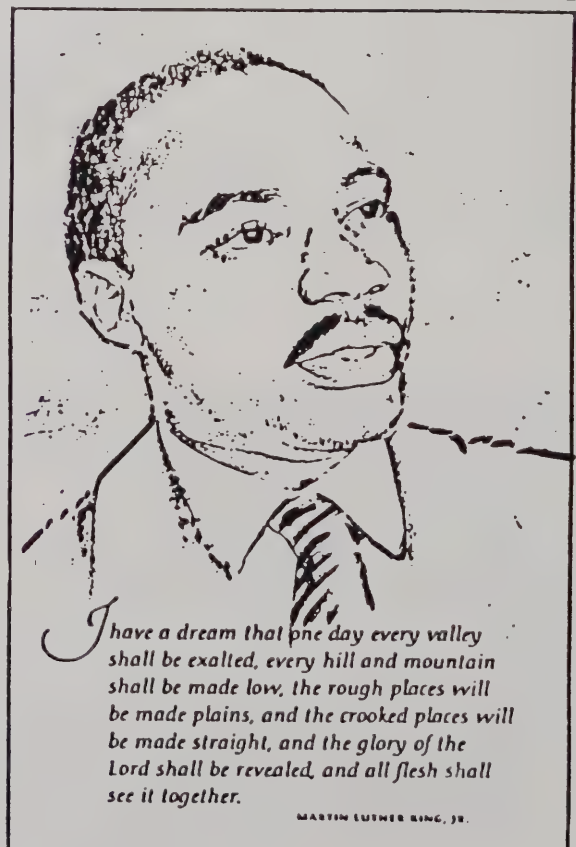

The celebration of Martin Luther King, Jr Day has already become an honored tradition in our community and in our school. It is a day to reflect on the meaning of Dr. King's life and his contribution to human rights in our nation. Here at CRLS community leaders visit the students to share Dr. King's vision of peace and brotherhood. As a central figure in the civil rights struggle in the United States, Dr. King won international acclaim for his advocacy of non-violent means to attain full equality for all Americans. Dr. King's life is a shining example of how faith and determination can move nations. Though he neither commanded great armies nor possessed great wealth, he changed forever the way our nation sees itself.

Leslie Kimbrough

CRLS students consume enough M&M's to cover the continental U.S. 3 times over. Well, that's not actually a known fact — but it might as well be. They are sold in every classroom and corridor of CRLS and, along with flowers, donuts, and raffle tickets, tend to make our school seem more like a business.

Fundraising has its pros and cons. Teachers are constantly aggravated by the interruptions of their classes and the unsavory M&M eating habits practiced by many students. You must be careful not to spill your candy — it could attract The Creatures From The Field House Locker Rooms. And a flower day without deliveries to you is certainly a miserable one. However, fundraising is all good intentions — a flower to cheer you up or a donut for hat needed early morning sugar high. It has enabled CRLS students to travel all over the country and the world, or to buy yearbooks or school jackets. It is an essential part of most school organizations.

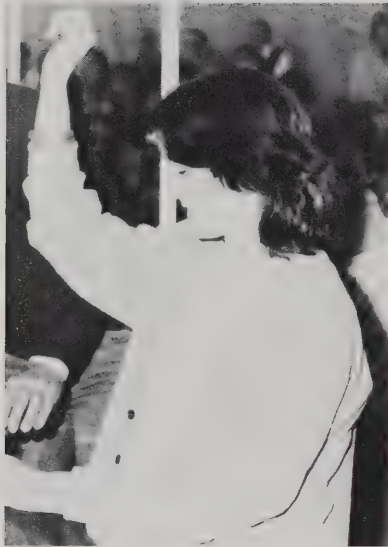

Besides, how could we get through 3rd period without a box of M&M's?!!

"Do you want to buy a Donut? Or maybe some M&M's?"

The Academic Decathlon was held in November at Cambridge Rindge and Latin. The Cambridge team finished third in the November competition, placing behind Wayland and Newton North.

The CRLS team was made up of six members and two alternates. The members were: in the Honors category Karl Happe and Heather Thompson, in the Scholastic category, Antonia Glenn and Peter Schmidt, and in the Varsity category, Andy Lee and Martin Mehrling. The alternates were Kavita Ramana and Tiffany Mann.

Karl placed fourth overall in the state in the Honors category, winning an individual gold medal in science. Antonia finished fifth overall in the Scholastic division, with two individual medals: a silver in Fine Arts and a bronze in Language and Literature. In the alternate testing, Kavita won four medals: a gold in Fine Arts, a silver in Math, a bronze in Language and Literature and a bronze in Science, and Tiffany won a bronze in Language and Literature. Team coaches were JoAnne Walther and Henry Lukas.

Nick smiles as group passes over treacherous waterfalls.

Peter is anxious to reach the top.

Veronica demonstrates the part of hiking she's the best at.

The CRLS Wilderness Club has a long tradition at our school. Starting out small, it is now over seventy five members strong, and our activities have also grown significantly, to include rock climbing, canoeing, backpacking, leadership training, hiking, cross-country skiing, winter camping, survival skills, first aid, and diving. Over the years we have also had the opportunity to award several Outward Bound scholarships which have taken our members to Hurricane Island, Maine, and the Smokie Mountains of North Carolina. Though we love Cambridge, there is something special about getting out there in the rough and challenging oneself that we'd like to share with you through these photos. Mike Krasnow and the staff wish to thank those who took part in our many cooperative efforts this year.

It's amazing how easy it is to watch my climber.

Uh, Amy you're supposed to be looking at me!

From its humble beginnings in 1977 to the current Ski Mania, the CRLS Alpine Ski Club has taken over 6,000 students up and down the "Moguley" slopes of New England. This year's total alone will top 1,000, and along with the expanded Alpine Program in Physical Education, it has taken our school by storm. This year marks our first trip to the powder of Utah, a goal each and every participant worked very hard for with an enormous fund-raising effort. Our coordinator, Mike Krasnow, and past directors George Greenidge and Mary Louise Piret, would like to thank all the teachers and staff who helped make the trips successful, especially Filomena Silva, Brian Roach, Les Kimbrough, Bill Colom and John Samp, who were always there when we needed them. And of course, a special thanks to Youth Enrichment Services, without whom the activity would have been economically unfeasible.

It's amazing how different the CRLS grounds look today.

Alpine Ski Club

Now how did I end up with Cindy Brown's skis?

Who says there's only one way up the mountain?

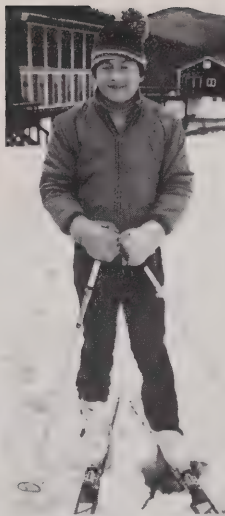

The Equadorian and Dominican Olympic Ski Teams confer before tackling the race course.

I finally found my contact lens.

We are the top "B" class in New England.

This is what I call my "Stand up" technique.

We've got sausages and dogs and we're goin' to UTAH with your money.

Jeremy Porter, top jewelry salesman, can also ski "Black Diamonds."

We're fresh, we're exciting, but her skis are broken!

True leaders always pose.

Ari searches for his Raybans so he can look as hip as Alex.

A moment that stands the test of time.

Farewell

Mr. Henry Lukas left CRLS on December 1, 1986, to become the principal of Marblehead High School. A native of Ohio, Mr. Lukas joined the faculty of Rindge Technical School in 1969 and became Assistant Headmaster of CRLS in 1978. Possessing a friendly, easy-going manner, Lukas was a highly visible administrator. For several years, Mr. Lukas was the unofficial "voice" of CRLS, starting off each day with the school news and the Happy Birthday announcements. He ran things from the midst of the Student Service Center, preferring to be closer to the students than secluded in a quiet office. We wish him and his family all the best — he will be sorely missed!

We remember him in this page by showing him doing what he did best!

STAFF

The nurses in the Health Center are responsible for our health care. Every time we come down with a bug or get hurt in gym, we go up to the fourth floor and get the care we need to feel better. Without them, life at C.R.L.S. may not exist because all of our pain, pangs, breaks, aches, and fevers would go uncared for.

Health Center Staff (l. to r.) Bea Morreo, Marie Wade, Sue Hagedorn, Rosemary Pereira

The computer staff at C.R.L.S. is responsible for the scheduling of students in classes for each academic year. Working under Warren Ferzoco, the staff makes changes, approves overrides in classes, and corrects scheduling errors.

The Pearl Wise Library is a stream of information that leads up to our ever-expanding ocean of knowledge. Containing many reference materials for reports as well as numerous books for our reading pleasure, the library staff is always ready and willing to help a student in need.

Teachers use the Teachers Resource Center to obtain audio-visual equipment, classroom aides, and all those good things that teachers use to broaden our educational horizons. Staff of the Teachers Resource Center also copy, laminate, and video tape literature and programs that teachers present to their classes.

The cafeteria staff are those responsible for feeding more than 2500 students every school day. Among the memorable dishes they prepare for us are cheeseburgers, steak and cheese sandwiches, and french bread pizzas.

The security staff are a valuable asset to our school. These twelve people advise laggards to get to class on time, and are famous for demanding hall passes. In addition, they are there to provide a feeling of safety in the building.

The custodial staff has the huge responsibility of keeping our school presentable. They often go unrecognized for such jobs as shoveling the snow off our long sidewalk after a typical New England storm!

Student life

Cambridge is known for its student life, and there's no doubt that the whirlwind of activity surrounding the city's schools keeps the city young. A lot of visitors report that when they go to Cambridge they just like to hang around "where the students are" to get a feel for the excitement of youth, when everything is possible. If you want to get a sense of this dynamic scene yourself, we suggest a visit to the following hangouts.

We've Got What You Need Everyday

★★★Montrose Market/Mass. House of Pizza/Angelo's Pizza. These three institutions, which surround the Cambridge Rindge and Latin School, hop with activity during the high school's lunch hour. According to the clerk at the Montrose Market, visitors are guaranteed plenty of student activity at these spots. "The students aren't allowed to go more than a block away during lunch hour, so they have to go to these three places," he explains. "Sage's won't let them in, and neither will the Broadway Super Market, so they don't have much choice."

The most popular student activities during lunch hour include buying a Coke and a slice of pizza, snacking on a bag of Doritos, or simply relaxing with a Mountain Dew. A word to the wise:

the crowd at the Montrose gets so heavy during lunch hour that the store has a doorman who only lets a few students in at a time, a la Studio 54. So look sharp if you want to squeeze into this student hot spot.

Our rating system:

- ★★★Excellent — don't miss it!
- ★★Good — worth a detour
- ★Interesting — passable if visiting means waiting for the "walk" signal.
